INSURANCE

Your local Insurance Broker is your first point of contact following an incident. It is possible that the broker will not be available/accessible due to being impacted by the same circumstances. Contacting the insurer directly would be the next course of action. The Financial and Consumer Affairs Authority of Saskatchewan provides a list of insurers licensed to operate in the province, however no contact information is provided.

SGI contact information is provided above. During the 2015 northern Saskatchewan wildfires, SGI established a Toll free Line for northern residents to call them directly.

TAXATION

Contacting the Government of Canada and the Province of Saskatchewan for a grace period on tax payments and/or remittances is recommended.

Canada Revenue Agency Contact information for Executive and the Minister's office is not available at time of writing. Contacting your local Member of Parliament is suggested.

Province of Saskatchewan Sales Tax (306) 787-6621; 1-800-667-6102

FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS and THIRD PARTY LENDERS

It may be necessary to contact the regional or national office of financial institutions if local branches are impacted by the incident. Financial Institutions should be contacted to appeal for loan relief for their existing customers and to discuss potential of bridge financing for impacted businesses.

The Financial and Consumer Affairs Authority of Saskatchewan provides a list of licensed Mortgage Brokerages, although no contact information is provided.

Banks

Finding regional and national telephone contacts is challenging. Websites of the key institutions are below. Reaching out to the bank branches operating in Saskatchewan (outside of the impacted area) is suggested as the starting point, if local branch management is not accessible.
